Prenatal Health Care and Postnatal Development

Welcome Message

Dear colleagues,

Obstetrics- perinatology-neonatology-pediatrics chain enabled us to bring together very distinguished scientists that will enlighten us with their valuable experiences from various countries in such a magnificent city who has been the diamond of the continental chain.

We are honoured with the pleasure of inviting many friends from east to west-north to south with whom we will have the opportunity of exchanging innumerable Ideas in the field of perinatal health as well as sharing the comments of our friends dealing with forensic medicine and pathology.

It has been always the task of health caregivers to announce the birth of a newly born baby and enjoy with the happiness of her, at that time the happy family does not need us, but unfortunately it is again our duty when they lose their child. One of the topics of this meeting will be how a health caregiver should be a good supporter for the family, which is the same in all of the languages.

SIDS is becoming one of the most important factors amongst the graduates of neonatal intensive care units and it will be a problem in the near future in low awareness countries as the advances in technology is inevitable.

" Storks" bring the neonates to the gentle arms of midwives and nurses who will take care of them from on. Our friends will participate in our meeting to share their tender experience whilst doing their best in reducing perinatal morbidity and mortality.

We will be proud of sharing your pleasure and joy after the brain storming sessions when you will have the opportunity of sipping your drink while dreaming in the blue, whispering, inspiring waves of the Bosphorus passes by which will render you to be a poet .

On the behalf of the organizing committee, we Would like to welcome you in istanbul and hope this congress becomes one of the "unforgettable" ones in terms of science, friendship and pleasure.
